

August 2017

Dear Parents,

It is back-to-school time and that means it's time to get registered for school rewards with your local stores. With full participation from Geneva Day School families and friends, we can raise thousands of dollars for educational expenses. By registering your customer loyalty cards from local grocery stores with each program and designating Geneva Day school as one of your schools, we will earn points and our school will receive a check at the end of the program year to use for educational needs.

As a school, we are participating with Giant, Safeway, and Harris Teeter. All you have to do is send in your name and ID#s on the attached form for each of the cards you use and we'll take care of the registration for you. Even if you have registered with these programs in the past, you must register your cards again for the 2016-2017 school year. Alternatively, you may register yourself through links to each program on our website. We realize many of you have children in other schools; the good news is that Giant and Safeway allow you to designate up to three schools and Harris Teeter up to five schools.

Geneva Day School also participates with Office Depot's Back-to-Schools Program. In order for Geneva to receive 5% of qualifying purchases back in the form of a merchandise card, just provide Geneva's Back-to-School ID #70221605 at the register or when you check out online. You may clip out a copy of the card on the attached form to keep with you. There is no need to register for this program.

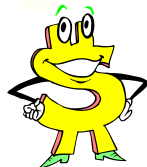

Additionally, Geneva participates in the Box Tops for Education Program. This is a terrific program that provides multiple ways to earn points for our school. Not only does Geneva Day School earn money for box tops clipped, we can also earn "box tops" per $10 spent at many online retailers we all use like Gap, Nordstrom, Target, and Barnes and Noble. Before your next online shopping spree, please visit the Box Tops for Education Marketplace (btf.com/marketplace) for a list of participating retailers and instructions on how to earn "box tops" for Geneva Day School.

Please encourage your friends and family register for these programs as well! It could make a huge difference for the School and our children. If you have any questions about any of these programs, you can direct them to Amantha Linkie in the Office.

Sincerely,

Amantha Linkie
